LJWL MEMORIES

Going on a writers retreat was the highlight of my time in the LJWL department. Being able to be with other writers to make meals, talk about writing, and share ideas was something I'll always cherish.

WHAT'S NEXT

In June, I'm going on a mission trip to Italy to teach people English and spread the gospel. It'll be an exciting experience!

HOPE FOR THE FUTURE

I hope to become a published author one day and have a ladder in my library like in Beauty and the Beast.
