

BECCA BULLEN

LJWL MEMORIES

In the class, Intro to Environmental Studies, we went on a walk around the PLNU campus to forage. We were led by an expert who told us what plants across campus we could and couldn't eat, and we spent the afternoon snacking on Loma's finest foliage. It was so fun to be in nature, with everyone in my major (which was about 8 people), and to learn about the value of the nature around us.

WHAT'S NEXT

I plan to stay in San Diego and work for a local environmental organization then later head back to school for my Master's in public policy.

HOPE FOR THE FUTURE

I hope to pursue a career in environmental law and policy, fighting for environmental and social justice, using my words and understanding of environmental issues to appeal to stakeholders and lawmakers to prioritize the earth.

Environmental Studies, B.A.

Sociology Minor,
ASB Student Senate
(Head of Sustainability Committee), Track & Field

